

Robert Evans

Robert was educated at a small Essex grammar school before moving on to gain a B.Sc in Physics at Reading University and a Diploma in Education at Bristol University.

He enjoyed a career in teaching in both maintained and independent sectors holding several senior posts including the headship of Watford Grammar School. As well as working within a variety of schools he was an examiner in 'A' level Physics and a lead inspector in the Independent Schools' equivalent to Ofsted.

Bob has been an elected Councillor in Bromley since 2006 mainly for Farnborough & Crofton ward. He has held several senior roles including a five-year stint as Cabinet member for Social Care. He now sits on several Scrutiny committees and is a Board member of Mytime Active, a Governor of King's University Hospital Trust and a member of Rochester Diocesan Board of Education and the Court of St Olave's & St Saviours.

He is an experienced school governor having served as such at several schools in Bromley and Croydon including being Chair of Governors at the Priory School.

Bob lives in Locksbottom with his wife Desiree who is a retired Health Visitor- and currently a Governor at Ravenswood School.

They have two grown up sons- one a lawyer living in London and the other running a Private Equity Fund in California and having their only two grandchildren.

He is an all-round sports fanatic- President of Rosslyn Park Rugby Club, a member of MCC & Essex County Cricket Club and a lifelong and long-suffering West Ham supporter willing to bore anyone at the drop of a hat about the glory days of Moore, Hurst, Peters et al.

Bob wishes to use his wide experience to support the school in its continuing development.
