

Maire Sullivan

Co-opted Governor

Maire has taught English at St Olave's since 2001 and was co-opted to the Governing Body as a member of the teaching staff in 2017. She graduated from London University and worked for several years in the NHS in health care standards and contracting before doing teacher training. She didn't plan to stay long in the job but really finds it a great pleasure to work with the students and staff of St. Olave's and wants to support the continued development of the school. She is particularly interested in the architectural and environmental aspect of school life.
